Instructions for the online survey

- In response to frequent requests from users of the paper questionnaire in the 2019 survey, we are now also offering the opportunity to take part online.
- The online survey is being conducted with the help of the external service provider LimeSurvey GmbH, Papenreya 63, 22453 Hamburg. The survey tools are hosted in Germany, and the data are processed and stored in Germany. The entire survey is governed by the rules of the GDPR.

LimeSurvey GmbH creates a dummy token (pseudonym) for each participant. This means that your name and address are not stored. The Freiburg Institute for Applied Social Sciences (FIFAS), Erasmusstraße 16, 79098 Freiburg, assigns an access code to you so that you can take part in the survey without giving your name or address. The access code contains only an encrypted reference to your survey area. Only FIFAS and the printer know the access code that was assigned to you. This information will be erased when the survey is finished.

- In addition to the version of the questionnaire in “German administrative language”, there is also a version in “German citizen-friendly language” and in English.

You can access these language versions via the following links:

German administrative language: <https://fifas.survey-research.net/877931>

German citizen-friendly language:

English: <https://fifas.limesurvey.net/877931?lang=en>

- When you log in to the survey please enter your personal access code from the invitation letter. Current information on the online survey is available at online-umfrage55plus.sis-me.net.
- For details on data privacy see the instructions for the online survey under “Information on data collection and use”.
